Butler, Warren Counties Raked By Tornadoes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Residents of tornado-stricken communities in Butler and Warren Counties agreed Sunday that "It's a miracle that no one was killed."

Cleanup operations continued into the night Sunday in the wake of the twisters late Saturday afternoon that caused damage estimated in millions and injured several persons.

U.S. Rep. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R-Ohio, toured the area by aircraft Sunday and then sent telegrams to President Nixon and Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, asking for "urgent consideration" for federal and state funds for relief of those hardest hit.

Butler County Sheriff Harold Carpenter and County Commissioner Cale Logsdon accompanied Lukens.

Carpenter estimated that total damage would run from $1 to $2 million in Pitsburg, West Chester, Okeana and Maustown — all in Butler County — and Monroe along the Butler-Warren County line. He added it was a "very conservative" estimate.

Monroe Mayor Gordon Reed said damage to that town alone might run as high as $2 million.

Lebanon, Mason and Waynesville — all in Warren County — were also hit but not as hard. Several homes were leveled in both counties, roofs were ripped from others, power lines and trees were downed, and debris was strewn for miles.

"It looked like a gigantic bulldozer went through," Butler County Sgt. Ray Thomas said about Maustown.

Maustown was closed off to traffic Sunday for cleanup operations and new power lines were strung.

Sightseers hampered cleanup in some towns.

"The tornado came right through our neighborhood," said Reed Musgrave of Monroe. "I watched it until the last moment and then headed for the basement to join my family. It sounded like the 100,000 freight trains they talk about. We were shaking in our shoes."

Nixon Sets TV Report On Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon conferred today with the U.S. military commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton Abrams, and will address the nation Wednesday night on prospects of peace as he sees them.

There was no indication of any major breakthrough in this direction.

Abrams flew in from Vietnam Sunday and is returning this afternoon.

This morning he met with Nixon, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the President's national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said this first meeting between the President and the top U.S. military man in Vietnam was a review of the situation there, with three factors uppermost.

Nixon sought Abrams' views on enemy military activity, including the possibility of new offensive actions.

He wanted information on the state of training of the South Vietnam army.

And he wanted to discuss the level of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Auto, Man's Body Hoisted From Lake

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An automobile containing a man's body was hoisted from Lake Erie at White City Beach Sunday.

Police said the man was identified as Darliss R. Barker, 29, of Cleveland. The body was sent to the coroner's office for a ruling, but there was no indication of violence, police said.

Another mass protest is in progress.

The protesters are mostly middle-class, middle-income and middle aged—the great body of taxpayers.

An Associated Press survey turned up, in state after state, signs of impending taxpayer resistance.

Example: Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania stumped across his state pleading for establishment of a state income tax to help balance a proposed $2.52-billion budget. At Williamsport, these placards were hoisted be-

Marietta College, CCNY Face Continued Disorder

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nearly 100 students at Marietta College in Ohio began the third day of a hunger strike today to protest the expulsion of the student body president. City College of New York holds its first day of classes under a new president, while protests continue at several other campuses.

In Marietta, 94 of the school's 1,800 students started a hunger strike Saturday after the school's president, Dr. Frank E. Duddy, expelled Earl Maiman, newly elected head of the student body on Thursday. Duddy said Maiman had used "inflammatory language" and there was no place for him on campus.

At City College Dr. Joseph J. Copeland, named acting president Saturday, faced continuing protests by black, Puerto Rican and white radical students.

The protesters want the school closed until five demands of the minority group students are met. They include a separate school of black and Hispanic studies and matching the school's enrollment of 20,000 to the ethnic makeup of the city's high schools, which are 46 per cent Negro and Puerto Rican.

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher resigned Friday as president, charging "politically motivated outside forces" made normal education impossible. He had been president 17 years.

The campus on the edge of Harlem was the scene of 11 suspicious fires and clashes between students of different political persuasion after the Board of Higher Education ordered the school opened last week under pressure from court orders.

Black and Puerto Rican faculty members announced they would join a strike by student protesters until the demands were met. They said they were supported by 200 white instructors.

At other campuses: Olean, N.Y.—The Very Rev. Reginald Reddon, president of St. Bonaventure University, banned Students for a Democratic Society from the campus.

He termed the radical group "antidemocratic, anti-American and anti-Christian." He made the announcement at a Mother's Day Mass, after unidentified students broke into a school office Friday night and stole confidential files.

U.S. Nuclear Bomber Fleet To Scatter To 70 Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans to scatter the U.S. nuclear bomber fleet over twice the airfields now used to cut the planes' growing vulnerability to a Soviet missile strike, Defense officials say.

Under the new plan, to be announced soon, the Air Force will redistribute its 538 B52 and B58 bombers over some 70 American airfields in order to complicate the Soviet targeting problem.

Currently the nuclear equipped bomber squadrons of the Strategic Air Command are stationed at 35 bases.

The dispersal program is a direct result of the Soviet Union's stepped up deployment of submarines which could launch nuclear missiles while submerged 1,500 miles from U.S. shores and its development of a fractional orbital bombardment system—FOBS.

Either weapon sharply reduces the amount of warning time which U.S. bombers could get during an attack and raises the possibility that an unacceptable number could be lost on the ground to nuclear bursts.

The Nixon administration's Safeguard antiballistic missile program provides for seaward and southward-looking radar to watch for submarine-launched missiles and the depressed-trajectory warheads of the FOBS system being tested by the Soviets.

But the radar is not enough of counter measure, officials say. Too many SAC bases are located near coastlines where they could get at best two or three minutes warning of an approaching missile.

This would not be enough time for starting the engines, getting the planes off the ground and reaching a safe distance from the base before the nuclear burst.

The United States has been keeping 40 per cent of the SAC Bomber Force on a 15-minute alert status. But 15 minutes is becoming too long to wait in the missile age.

Hocking Judge To Hear Trial

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Problems in locating a judge to preside caused some delay today in the start of the trial of Curtis Davis, 22, Bainbridge, charged with first-degree murder and shooting with intent to wound.

Judge Harley Meyer of Hocking County Common Pleas Court was due later in the day to preside at the trial.

Judge J. Donald Ratcliff of Ross County Common Pleas Court disqualified himself because principal witnesses had discussed the case with him before his election as a judge.

Find Cleveland Man Beaten To Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 66-year-old man was found beaten to death Sunday night in his room on the West Side.

The body of Ralph Umstott, a pensioner, was found wrapped in a blanket.

Signs Of Taxpayer Revolt Growing Across Country

fore his eyes: "Governor, You Hike, We Strike," and, "Join the Taxpayer Rebellion."

Later, in Harrisburg, Shafer was presented a suitcase filled with the names of 50,000 voters opposing the proposed state income tax. The Beaver Falls News-Tribune had printed blank petitions, readers had signed them and editor Bill Northrup carried them to the governor.

In Georgia, Gov. Lester Maddox ran into trouble with the legislature, which refused to approve major tax hike proposals resulting from the governor's $1.1-billion budget. Maddox has offered to resign if the legislature will return in special session and pass his program, including new taxes.

Taxpayers in many states are refusing to pass school bond issues.

In one week, Ohioans voted on 117 local school tax issues and rejected nearly 55 per cent of them.

Some of these proposed operating levies failed for the second and third times. Education leaders claim inflation has wiped out $100 million of local education money in the past two years.

In New York City's suburbs, voters have rejected 34 out of 55 school budgets so far this year.

Officials see the rejections as a taxpayers' revolt in the face of the failure of the state legislature to provide increases in state aid to local school districts and with teachers demanding higher salaries.

In Great Neck, Long Island voters rejected a $22.2 million budget and elected two school trustees militantly opposed to busing Negro students in from New York City. A busing proposal was defeated in February.

"This is what we expected and this is what we were afraid of," said Milton Kurland, president of the Nassau-Suffolk School Boards Association. "If you can't read this as a taxpayers revolt, then you have to go back to school."

Voters turned out in greater numbers than ever before in Mahomet, Minn., a suburb of St. Paul, to turn down bond issues for a new senior high school and swimming pool. It was the first time a bond issue ever was rejected in the community.

The San Diego Unified School District lost its first bond election in 30 years with the defeat March 13 of a $99.3-million measure intended to finance, among other things, improvement of school buildings declared unsafe in the event of an earthquake.

Los Angeles voters roundly refused to pass three school propositions and Supt. Jack Crowther placed the blame on student unrest and taxpayers' desire for tax reform.

Crowther recommended to the Board of Education a 49-cent tax boost coupled with the severest school cutbacks in the city's history—including elimination of athletic programs, bus service, classes in journalism, drama, music and art and trimming about 3,500 staff positions.

A Milwaukee group, termed "a unique uprising" by its founder, is borrowing pages from the campus disruptors' textbooks.

Public Safety Bill Goes Before House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislation which would transfer five crime agencies from the attorney general's office to a new cabinet-level department of public safety comes up for a House vote tonight.

Democrats are expected to object to some provisions of the bill, but passage is expected in the Republican-dominated House.

The administration bill would put the Crime Commission, Bureau of Criminal Identification, Consumer Frauds and Crime Section, Division of Criminal Activities and the Ohio Peace Officer Training Council under the new department.

In addition, the bill would dissolve the Department of Highway Safety and put the Ohio Highway Patrol in the new department.

Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown has endorsed the bill, but the Crime Commission opposes it.

Most objections center on the loss of investigative powers by the attorney general's office and a provision to authorize use of the highway patrol in public employ labor disputes.

The House also is scheduled to vote tonight on a bill to relieve from a person who receives an unsolicited credit card any liability if the card is used by someone else.

Floor votes are expected in the Senate tonight on three major election reform bills.

They would allow write-in votes for declared independent candidates, lower from 15 to 4 per cent of the vote cast in the last gubernatorial election the number of petitioners needed to put an independent candidate for president or vice president on the Ohio ballot, and reduce from 10 to 7 per cent the minimum vote needed to qualify a third political party.

Fifty-six bills are scheduled for hearings in the Senate this week and 101 in the House.

The Senate Judiciary Committee tonight will hear a bill to regulate giveaway games and another to provide injunctive relief against deceptive trade practices.

On Tuesday: House Judiciary Committee hears bill to permit convicts serving life terms to be brought to trial.

House Health and Welfare Committee hears bill to establish uniform procedures for donating of organs for transplants.

House Interstate Cooperation Committee hears six bills proposing Ohio state songs.

Commerce and Labor Committee hears bill to give workmen's compensation to coal miners suffering from "black lung" disease.

Rogers Starts Asian Journey

Plans Saigon, SEATO Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers, departing on a 17-day trip to Asia, said today he is anxious to talk with South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu both about developments in the war and the Paris peace negotiations.

He told newsmen he hopes to have "constructive meetings at Bangkok of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and the seven nations with troops in South Vietnam."

He also hopes for a constructive session of the Central Treaty Organization meeting in Tehran.

Rogers, accompanied by his wife plus a full staff of advisers and experts, left Andrews Air Force Base at 9:20 a.m. EDT for Honolulu on the first leg of his flight to Saigon.

It is his first undertaking at individual diplomacy since becoming secretary but he accompanied President Nixon last March on the presidential seven-nation European trip.

Extra security precautions will be in effect for Rogers and his party in Saigon.

Some U.S. experts think a current Communist terror campaign is directed at Rogers' forthcoming first-hand talks with Vietnamese authorities on the Viet Cong 10-point peace plan.

Other experts attribute the campaign more closely to the Viet Cong initiative in Paris and the birthday May 19 of North Vietnam Communist leader Ho Chi Minh.

Formosa Defense Minister Tours

BANGKOK (AP) — Nationalist China's defense minister, Chiang Ching-kuo arrived in Bangkok today for a five-day visit that may mean a new step toward an expanded Asian military alliance.

Chiang was met at Bangkok's military airport by the prime minister, Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, and other military and political leaders.

Some observers believe that Nationalist China is anxious to join a regional defense alliance and that Thailand and South Korea support this.

Largest Since Tet Attacks Of Year Ago

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy troops raked 159 allied military positions and towns with rockets and mortars during the night and into today in the largest number of attacks in a 24-hour period since the Tet offensive of February 1968.

Several attacks were followed by infantry strikes, with the heaviest fighting centered northwest of Saigon, near the Cambodian border, and south of Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city.

First reports, still incomplete, listed more than 300 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers killed in ground fighting. U.S. casualties were put at 17 killed and 136 wounded in the ground fighting alone.

The U.S. Command did not disclose casualties from the rocket and mortar attacks, but headquarters said over-all casualties and damage to the American side were light.

The North Vietnamese 1st Division mounted the heaviest attacks of the night against the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division in War Zone C bordering Cambodia northwest of Saigon.

North Vietnamese troops from the 1st Division slammed more than 500 rounds of rockets and mortars into three U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division bases blocking the northwesterly approaches into Saigon.

In each case, they followed up the heavy shelling with infantry assaults, touching off night-long fighting. In these three battles alone, ranging from 50 to 60

Malaysian Voters Hurt Ruling Party

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's Alliance party has retained control of Parliament, but has little hope of mustering the two-thirds majority which has given it control up to now over Malaysia's constitution.

"The people wanted a strong opposition and they are getting it," said Rahman.

Complete returns from the nation's third general election gave Rahman's three-party alliance at least 76 of the 144 places in Parliament.

Final returns from West Malaysia gave the Alliance 66 seats and 10 Alliance candidates in the North Borneo state of Sabah were unopposed.

Other returns from Sabah and the Borneo state of Sarawak will not be known for another month because of poor communications. Thirty more seats are at stake in the two states.

The Alliance lost 22 seats in West Malaysia and won less than 50 per cent of the popular vote. It lost control of two of the 11 state governments, could only manage a deadlock in another, and failed to make inroads elsewhere.

High Winds, Rain, Hail Hit County

Rain and hail and gusty winds brought bizarre weekend weather to Pickaway County.

Tornado warnings for the area were in effect Saturday evening. A tree fell across Route 56, one-half mile east of Thatcher, blocking traffic for a short time.

General Telephone Co. service department answered the call from the county sheriff's department to clear the road. The call was received at 5:30 p.m. Workmen had opened the road to traffic at 9:08 p.m.

The tree, according to a spokesman, was about 3 feet in diameter. It fell from the David Montgomery property across both lanes of the highway damaging a fence, telephone poles and wires. Long distance service to Laurelville was curtailed for a short period of time as a result of the damage to telephone property.

IN Circleville, service department employees worked to clear tree limbs dropped at Mound and Scioto Sts. and Court and Ohio Sts.

There was no interruption of service from this source but a tree limb fell over lines in the north end of the city in the Montclair Road area disrupting electric service to parts of the town for a period of about 45 minutes.

The current outage left students attending the Circleville Junior-Senior prom and a horse sale in progress at the Fairgrounds, both in darkness.

South Central Power Co. responded to calls of downed tree limbs but reported no interruption of service.

Unseasonal temperatures will remain in the area, according to the local weather observer. A frost warning has been issued for tonight with an expected overnight low of 30-33. Temperatures are expected to rise Tuesday but will remain below normal for May. Possible rain has also been forecast for today and Tuesday.

Ahmed Evans Found Guilty

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An all-white Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court jury today found Black Nationalist Fred "Ahmed" Evans guilty of seven charges of first-degree murder, making no recommendation for mercy.

Judge George J. McMonable sentenced the 37-year-old former Army sergeant to death in the electric chair this September 22.

Jurors returned their verdict after some 16 hours of deliberation. It came on the first day of what would have been the eighth week of Evans' trial.

Evans faced seven counts of first-degree murder in the slaying of three white policemen and one Negro civilian during a battle between police and Black Nationalists in Cleveland's Glenville area last July 23.

Rogers Starts Asian Journey

Plans Saigon, SEATO Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers, departing on a 17-day trip to Asia, said today he is anxious to talk with South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu both about developments in the war and the Paris peace negotiations.

He told newsmen he hopes to have "constructive meetings at Bangkok of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and the seven nations with troops in South Vietnam."

He also hopes for a constructive session of the Central Treaty Organization meeting in Tehran.

Rogers, accompanied by his wife plus a full staff of advisers and experts, left Andrews Air Force Base at 9:20 a.m. EDT for Honolulu on the first leg of his flight to Saigon.

It is his first undertaking at individual diplomacy since becoming secretary but he accompanied President Nixon last March on the presidential seven-nation European trip.

Extra security precautions will be in effect for Rogers and his party in Saigon.

Some U.S. experts think a current Communist terror campaign is directed at Rogers' forthcoming first-hand talks with Vietnamese authorities on the Viet Cong 10-point peace plan.

Other experts attribute the campaign more closely to the Viet Cong initiative in Paris and the birthday May 19 of North Vietnam Communist leader Ho Chi Minh.

Formosa Defense Minister Tours

BANGKOK (AP) — Nationalist China's defense minister, Chiang Ching-kuo arrived in Bangkok today for a five-day visit that may mean a new step toward an expanded Asian military alliance.

Chiang was met at Bangkok's military airport by the prime minister, Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, and other military and political leaders.

Some observers believe that Nationalist China is anxious to join a regional defense alliance and that Thailand and South Korea support this.

Largest Since Tet Attacks Of Year Ago

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy troops raked 159 allied military positions and towns with rockets and mortars during the night and into today in the largest number of attacks in a 24-hour period since the Tet offensive of February 1968.

Several attacks were followed by infantry strikes, with the heaviest fighting centered northwest of Saigon, near the Cambodian border, and south of Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city.

First reports, still incomplete, listed more than 300 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers killed in ground fighting. U.S. casualties were put at 17 killed and 136 wounded in the ground fighting alone.

The U.S. Command did not disclose casualties from the rocket and mortar attacks, but headquarters said overall casualties and damage to the American side were light.

The North Vietnamese 1st Division mounted the heaviest attacks of the night against the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division in War Zone C bordering Cambodia northwest of Saigon.

North Vietnamese troops from the 1st Division slammed more than 500 rounds of rockets and mortars into three U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division bases blocking the northwesterly approaches into Saigon.

Malyasian Voters Hurt Ruling Party

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's Alliance party has retained control of Parliament, but has little hope of mustering the two-thirds majority which has given it control up to now over Malaysia's constitution.

"The people wanted a strong opposition and they are getting it," said Rahman.

Complete returns from the nation's third general election gave Rahman's three-party alliance at least 76 of the 144 places in Parliament.

Final returns from West Malaysia gave the Alliance 66 seats and 10 Alliance candidates in the North Borneo state of Sabah were unopposed.

Other returns from Sabah and the Borneo state of Sarawak will not be known for another month because of poor communications. Thirty more seats are at stake in the two states.

The Alliance lost 22 seats in West Malaysia and won less than 50 per cent of the popular vote. It lost control of two of the 11 state governments, could only manage a deadlock in another, and failed to make inroads elsewhere.

Three Cabinet members went down in defeat.

Rahman, the only prime minister Malaysia has had in its 12 years of independence, was re-elected in his home district but with the smallest majority he has ever received.

Signs Of Taxpayer Revolt Growing Across Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Another mass protest is in progress.

The protesters are mostly middle-class, middle-income and middle aged—the great body of taxpayers.

An Associated Press survey turned up, in state after state, signs of impending taxpayer resistance.

Example: Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania stumped across his state pleading for establishment of a state income tax to help balance a proposed $2.52-billion budget. At Williamsport, these placards were hoisted before his eyes: "Governor, You Hike, We Strike," and, "Join the Taxpayer Rebellion."

Later, in Harrisburg, Shafer was presented a suitcase filled with the names of 50,000 voters opposing the proposed state income tax. The Beaver Falls News-Tribune had printed blank petitions, readers had signed them and editor Bill Northrup carried them to the governor.

In Georgia, Gov. Lester Maddox ran into trouble with the legislature, which refused to approve major tax hike proposals resulting from the governor's $1.1-billion budget. Maddox has offered to resign if the legislature will return in special session and pass his program, including new taxes.

Taxpayers in many states are refusing to pass school bond issues.

In one week, Ohioans voted on 117 local school tax issues and rejected nearly 55 per cent of them.

Some of these proposed operating levies failed for the second and third times. Education leaders claim inflation has wiped out $100 million of local education money in the past two years.

In New York City's suburbs, voters have rejected 34 out of 55 school budgets so far this year.

Officials see the rejections as a taxpayers' revolt in the face of the failure of the state legislature to provide increases in state aid to local school districts and with teachers demanding higher salaries.

In Great Neck, Long Island voters rejected a $22.2 million budget and elected two school trustees militantly opposed to busing Negro students in from New York City. A busing proposal was defeated in February.

"This is what we expected of," said Milton Kurland, president of the Nassau-Suffolk School Boards Association. "If you can't read this as a taxpayer's revolt, then you have to go back to school."

Voters turned out in greater numbers than ever before in Mahomet, Minn., a suburb of St. Paul, to turn down bond issues for a new senior high school and swimming pool. It was the first time a bond issue ever was rejected in the community.

The San Diego Unified School District lost its first bond election in 30 years with the defeat March 13 of a $91.3-million measure intended to finance, among other things, improvement of school buildings declared unsafe in the event of an earthquake.

Los Angeles voters roundly refused to pass three school propositions and Supt. Jack Crowther placed the blame on student unrest and taxpayers' desire for tax reform.

Crowther recommended to the Board of Education a 49-cent tax boost coupled with the severest school cutbacks in the city's history—including elimination of athletic programs, bus service, classes in journalism, drama, music and art and trimming about 3,500 staff positions.

A Milwaukee group, termed "a unique uprising" by its founder, is borrowing pages from the campus disruptors' textbooks.

Gunfire Again Heard Over Jordan River

TEL AVIV (AP) — Another artillery battle raged across the Jordan River early today.

Both sides denied suffering any damage or casualties. But Jordanian forces said they had destroyed an Israeli tank and an observation post and silenced a gun position near the Allenby Bridge.

An Israeli spokesman said the battle began when Jordan unleashed mortar fire on Israeli emplacements around the Mandassah Bridge 10 miles north of the Dead Sea. Jordanian tanks came into action an hour later, the spokesman said.

The fighting lasted about 2 1/2 hours. Twenty-five minutes after it ended—at about dawn—another artillery duel broke out near the Allenby Bridge just south of Mandassah. That lasted 40 minutes, stopped for 20 minutes, then resumed for another 40 minutes.

On Sunday, Israeli artillery shells exploded inside the city of Port Said for the first time since the six-day war in June 1967. Egypt said one civilian was killed in his home and that eight others were wounded.

The shells hit Port Said during a six-hour exchange of artillery fire across the Suez Canal. There were no reports of casualties on the Israeli side.

Dahomey Faces Coup -- Again

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer
COTONOU, Dahomey (AP) — Dahomey had its last biennial coup in December 1967 and seems to be heading for another, right on schedule.

The workers are yelling because President Emile Derlin Zinsou is threatening to cut family allowances from about $10 a month per child to about $3.

Students have been on strike in Porto Novo and Cotonou, the two main cities of this French-speaking sliver on the West African coast. About 1,400 striking boys at the Lycee Behanzin in Porto Novo spent the weekend in the school compound, apparently afraid of the gendarmes patrolling outside.

In the capital, Cotonou, postal and telegraph workers talked about a strike.

President Zinsou, who took over from a military government 10 months ago, announced last week that his government had arrested about 20 members of the Dahomeyan Democratic Union for plotting to overthrow him.

Speculation that neighboring Nigeria was taking a hand in antigovernment activities was aroused three weeks ago when one of Dahomey's four exiled ex-presidents, Sourou-Migan Aithy, appeared in Lagos and had talks at the Foreign Ministry. The Nigerians have been unhappy with Zinsou since he agreed in February for the International Red Cross to fly a relief airlift at night from Cotonou to Biafra.

The Nigerians closed the border soon afterward to the Dahomeyans. It was a blow to residents of Porto Novo, 18 miles west of the border, who had been operating taxis across the border and smuggling goods into Nigeria. The Yoruba tribesmen of Porto Novo are kin to the Yorubas in Western Nigeria, and Apathy is from Porto Novo. The military summoned Zinsou to the presidency when an election early in 1968 failed to produce a winner. The election flopped because of a boycott by followers of former presidents Justin Ahomadegbe, Apathy and Hubert Maga. All three were barred from the race, along with the fourth ex-president, Gen. Christophe Soglo who was overthrown in December 1967.

and lives in the Ivory Coast. Dahomey's basic trouble is lack of money. The French are tired of subsidizing their former colony nearly a decade after independence. When Zinsou appealed for funds, they demanded that he commit political suicide by trimming 2,000 workers off the government payroll and let French technicians run the country's finances.

Reliable sources said France also is causing difficulty with Dahomey's major hope for expanding an economy now based on poor palm oil exports. The Union Oil Co. of California has found oil off the coast. But the French are reported demanding first crack at the mineral rights in accordance with the independence agreement.

Dahomey Faces Coup -- Again

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer
COTONOU, Dahomey (AP) — Dahomey had its last biennial coup in December 1967 and seems to be heading for another, right on schedule.

The workers are yelling because President Emile Derlin Zinsou is threatening to cut family allowances from about $10 a month per child to about $3.

Students have been on strike in Porto Novo and Cotonou, the two main cities of this French-speaking sliver on the West African coast. About 1,400 striking boys at the Lycée Behanzin in Porto Novo spent the weekend in the school compound, apparently afraid of the gendarmes patrolling outside.

In the capital, Cotonou, postal and telegraph workers talked out a strike.

President Zinsou, who took over from a military government 10 months ago, announced last week that his government had arrested about 20 members of the Dahomeyan Democratic Union for plotting to overthrow him.

Speculation that neighboring Nigeria was taking a hand in antigovernment activities was aroused three weeks ago when one of Dahomey's four exiled ex-presidents, Sourou-Migan Apathy, appeared in Lagos and had talks at the Foreign Ministry. The Nigerians have been unhappy with Zinsou since he agreed in February for the International Red Cross to fly a relief airlift at night from Cotonou to Biafra.

The Nigerians closed the border soon afterward to the Dahomeyans. It was a blow to residents of Porto Novo, 18 miles west of the border, who had been operating taxis across the border and smuggling goods into Nigeria. The Yoruba tribesmen of Porto Novo are kin to the Yorubas in Western Nigeria, and Apathy is from Porto Novo. The military summoned Zinsou to the presidency when an election early in 1968 failed to produce a winner. The election flopped because of a boycott by followers of former presidents Justin Ahomadegbe, Apathy and Hubert Maga. All three were barred from the race, along with the fourth ex-president, Gen. Christophe Soglo who was overthrown in December 1967.

and lives in the Ivory Coast. Dahomey's basic trouble is lack of money. The French are tired of subsidizing their former colony nearly a decade after independence. When Zinsou appealed for funds, they demanded that he commit political suicide by trimming 2,000 workers off the government payroll and let French technicians run the country's finances.

Reliable sources said France also is causing difficulty with Dahomey's major hope for expanding an economy now based on poor palm oil exports. The Union Oil Co. of California has found oil off the coast. But the French are reported demanding first crack at the mineral rights in accordance with the independence agreement.

Man Walks And Runs Across U.S.

PIE TOWN, N.M. (AP) — Bruce Tulloh squinted down the barren, sunbaked New Mexico highway and scratched a two-day beard.
"I've a bit of foot trouble," he said, "so I'll walk the first part of the day."
"But I reckon to get 40 miles in today and 45 tomorrow."
The 33-year-old British biology teacher is walking and running from Los Angeles to New York. He hopes to eclipse the record of 67 days for the trip set in 1964.
"The altitude has been a bit of a bad go, but you have to keep going," said the Englishman, a day and a half behind schedule.
Pie Town sits astride the Continental Divide at an altitude of 8,112 feet.
Tulloh has slogged through rain and snow from an unexpected spring storm for three days, favoring pulled tendons in his right foot. But clearing skies raised his spirits.
"The hardest part was after the injury, when every step hurt," he said. "But when we get away from this high altitude and the injury gets better, then I'll move along."
Tulloh fell behind schedule because of the weather and a day out to rest his foot.
To reach New York City by June 26, the 116-pound distance runner will have to cover more than 40 miles a day—running, walking, running and walking with brief stops for tea and lunch.

Saints' Loss Stirs Dismay In Churches

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI's action in cutting dozens of saints from the Roman Catholic calendar and downgrading dozens of others is causing widespread confusion and disappointment.
The action was taken on the recommendation of a majority of the Church's bishops and is another step designed to reflect the international image of the Church in the modern world.
In his decree Friday the Pope removed from the calendar saints whose existence the Church considers in doubt. He reduced the number of saints to whom veneration by all Roman Catholics is due and placed other saints in a category that makes veneration of them optional.
Saints removed include St. Christopher, patron saint of travelers. Under the new ruling Catholics who want to continue venerating him may do so since he hasn't been abolished as a saint. But there is no longer a saints day for him or the others cut from the calendar, and no Catholic can officially be asked to venerate them.
St. George, the patron saint of England, St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, St. Nicholas, whose name is associated with Santa Claus, and many others continue to be regarded by the Church as historical figures who existed and who are saints in good standing.
Because their importance is deemed more associated with local areas and not to the Catholic world as a whole, however, they are now on the optional list.

Volpe Reports Mass Transit Plan In Works

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe says the Nixon administration will propose a $1 billion-a-year urban mass transit program in about a month.
He said Friday that the money would be used for a "trust fund" similar to the Federal Highway Trust Fund that has channeled $36 billion into highway construction since 1956.
Local governments could draw from the fund if they raised about 20 to 40 per cent of the cost of proposed transit systems on their own, Volpe said while touring the city's transit system.
Proponents of mass transit have long argued that the federal highway program overemphasized the use of the automobile and contributed to urban traffic jams. The highway program spends $5.5 billion a year.

Honor Society Holds Election

Last meeting of National Honor Society was April 24. The business for the meeting was the election of new officers for the 1969-70 school year.
The results were as follows: Neil Fosnough, president; Ed Combs, vice president; JoEllen Walker, secretary and news reporter; Wendell Calton, treasurer; Pam Bush, chaplain and Edna Holland, sergeant-at-arms.
Mr. Weaver then brought up the question of money-making projects for the society. After some discussion, the meeting was adjourned by the president, Bob Hines.

Silicone Injections Bring Damage Suit
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A Denver district court jury has awarded $25,000 to a woman who claimed she was permanently disfigured as a result of silicone breast injections she was given by a Denver osteopath.
The jury made the award to Mrs. Frances Klepper, now 28 and living in Mount Vernon, Ohio. She had asked for $150,000 in damages in her suit against Dr. Linwood E. Downs.
Mrs. Klepper received the treatments in 1965 and the suit contended the silicone migrated from the point of injection. Mrs. Klepper claimed she was permanently disfigured and incurred additional expense having the silicone removed.

Saints removed include St. Christopher, patron saint of travelers. Under the new ruling Catholics who want to continue venerating him may do so since he hasn't been abolished as a saint. But there is no longer a saints day for him or the others cut from the calendar, and no Catholic can officially be asked to venerate them.

St. George, the patron saint of England, St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, St. Nicholas, whose name is associated with Santa Claus, and many others continue to be regarded by the Church as historical figures who existed and who are saints in good standing.

Because their importance is deemed more associated with local areas and not to the Catholic world as a whole, however, they are now on the optional list.

Volpe Reports Mass Transit Plan In Works

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe says the Nixon administration will propose a $1 billion-a-year urban mass transit program in about a month.

He said Friday that the money would be used for a "trust fund" similar to the Federal Highway Trust Fund that has channeled $36 billion into highway construction since 1956.

Local governments could draw from the fund if they raised about 20 to 40 per cent of the cost of proposed transit systems on their own, Volpe said while touring the city's transit system.

Proponents of mass transit have long argued that the federal highway program overemphasized the use of the automobile and contributed to urban traffic jams. The highway program spends $5.5 billion a year.

Nominations for a class motto were taken. However, the motto will not be chosen until a later date.

Name cards and graduation announcements were distributed during homeroom Friday.

The Baccalaureate service will be Sunday evening, June 1. Commencement exercise will take place 8 p.m. June 5 in the high school gymnasium.

Silicone Injections Bring Damage Suit

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A Denver district court jury has awarded $25,000 to a woman who claimed she was permanently disfigured as a result of silicone breast injections she was given by a Denver osteopath.

The jury made the award to Mrs. Frances Klenper, now 28 and living in Mount Vernon, Ohio. She had asked for $150,000 in damages in her suit against Dr. Linwood E. Downs.

Mrs. Klepper received the treatments in 1965 and the suit contended the silicone migrated from the point of injection. Mrs. Klepper claimed she was permanently disfigured and incurred additional expense having the silicone removed.

Man Walks And Runs Across U.S.

PIE TOWN, N.M. (AP) — Bruce Tulloh squinted down the barren, sunbaked New Mexico highway and scratched a two-day beard.

"I've a bit of foot trouble," he said, "so I'll walk the first part of the day."

"But I reckon to get 40 miles in today and 45 tomorrow."

The 33-year-old British biology teacher is walking and running from Los Angeles to New York. He hopes to eclipse the record of 67 days for the trip set in 1964.

"The altitude has been a bit of a bad go, but you have to keep going," said the Englishman, a day and a half behind schedule.

Pie Town sits astride the Continental Divide at an altitude of 8,112 feet.

Tulloh has slogged through rain and snow from an unexpected spring storm for three days, favoring pulled tendons in his right foot. But clearing skies raised his spirits.

"The hardest part was after the injury, when every step hurt," he said. "But when we get away from this high altitude and the injury gets better, then I'll move along."

Tulloh fell behind schedule because of the weather and a day out to rest his foot.

To reach New York City by June 26, the 116-pound distance runner will have to cover more than 40 miles a day—running, walking, running and walking with brief stops for tea and lunch.

Trade Seesaw

Import-export balances, badly affected by the dock strike earlier this year, seesawed wildly during the first quarter. One of the important contributors to the over-all balance in the U. S. international accounts, the trade balance is watched closely by economists for signs of how things are in the dollar drain.

After a surplus in January, the balance showed a whopping $358.6 million deficit in February. March swung back into black ink, with a surplus of $215.3 million. But for the quarter, a deficit of $68.1 million was chalked up — the first quarterly deficit in trade since 1950.

Trying to analyze the first quarter performance in terms of what "normal" import-export figures will show for the rest of the year, William H. Chartener, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, was cautious.

"It is too early to derive any significant conclusions from the first quarter trade developments," he said. "The effects of the dock strike were enormous. However, extremely rough calculations suggest that the strike may have delayed exports by at least $500 million more than imports during January and February, only part of which was worked off in the March exports spurt."

But the nation is far from ringing up the kind of trade balance it was accustomed to until a few years ago.

Stopping The Medicine

Britain's socialized health plan has become so mired in inefficiency and mushrooming cost that it is understandable that frustrations with it should erupt into intemperate statements from time to time. But Dr. Kenneth O. A. Vickery cleared all bounds of propriety when he advocated to the Royal Health Congress that British physicians should not be required to keep old people alive after they reach a certain age.

Dr. Vickery is identified as a British health official and his concern is, he says, that the older population of Britain has become so large it is swamping the health services in some parts of the country.

"In a community which can no longer adequately nurse its chronic sick, where beds are so blocked by the aged that younger people requiring surgical and medical treatment cannot be admitted, we can no longer avoid the issue of medicated survival," he said.

This is a health system some advocate for the United States?

More And Costlier

Another indication of how inflation grows can be found in the Agriculture Department's report that production of red meat in the United States reached a record high in March.

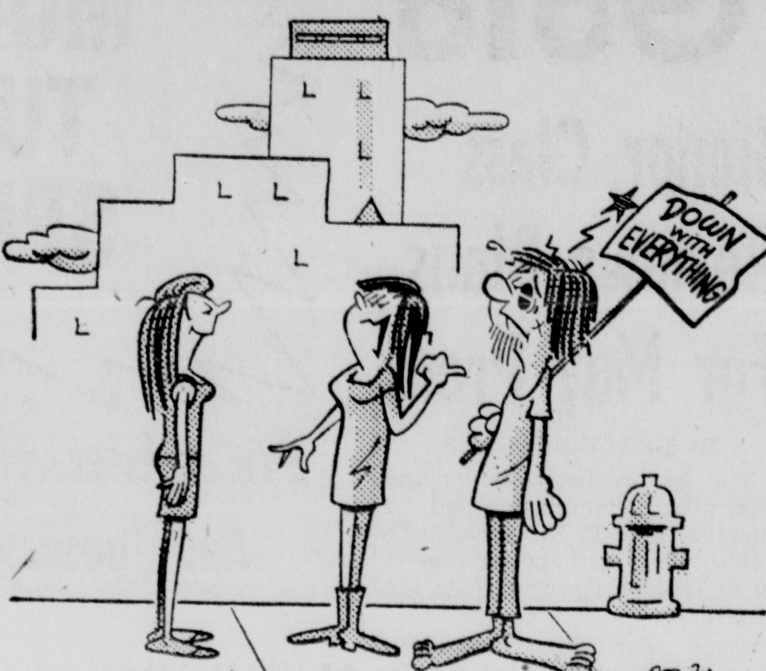

Seven per cent more pork and two per cent more beef were produced than a year earlier, to take two popular examples.

Increased supply, it might be hoped, would at least keep prices steady.

But prices have soared by four to six per cent for some of the principal cuts of these two meats, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

So long as there are customers ready to bid up the prices in the marketplace, life will be ever harder for the millions for whom pork chops at $1.04 a pound (national average for January) and round steak at $1.18 are already out of sight.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

One of our children was born with cystic fibrosis. We have not been able to learn anything about its cause, or why it should happen in a family that has no history of similar illnesses. With all the money that seems to be collected, it is not surprising that so little is known about this terrible condition? Why isn't more of this money being spent in research so that it can be prevented?

Mr. F. C.D., Manitoba Dear Mr. D.: Before I embark on an attempt to tell you why our knowledge of cystic fibrosis is so inadequate, let me, for other readers, describe this strong condition. This disease only recently has been brought to the attention of the American people although it has been baffling physicians for many years. We know the symptoms and understand that this disorder affects the pancreas, the lungs, and the sweat glands. This odd threesome produces symptoms that appear early in infancy and threaten the lives of children unless they are treated actively and consistently.

It is known by other names such as Mucoviscidiosis and is considered to be an inherited disease with some genetic background, especially if both parents have the trait. Neither need have the disease.

Cystic fibrosis was almost a calamitous condition because of the marked malnutrition, lung infections, and susceptibility to heat prostration. Many children tragically succumbed, especially before the antibiotics were discovered and were used to treat the lung complication.

Your personal despair is understandable. Let me assure you that vast research projects continue all over the world in the hope that eventually this condition may be prevented. At the present time such research is being subsidized by governmental and public funds, and already is yielding knowledge that makes it possible to control this condition and offer better chances for the survival of children stricken with this heart-breaking birth abnormality. We all are encouraged by every additional contribution to the strange jigsaw puzzle of cystic fibrosis.

We hear about allergy to everything. Is it possible to have an allergy to cold weather? Every time my teenage daughter goes out in weather below freezing, she develops hives.

Mrs. W. G., Illinois Dear Mrs. B.: The term "allergy" is not being used by physicians as an excuse for conditions that baffle them. Rather it is accepted that allergy plays a most important role in many of the diseases now brought to the attention of a physician.

It is not uncommon for people to develop giant itchy hives when exposed to extremes of heat or cold. Some believe that it is the change from one temperature to another that may be responsible. These hives have responded rather readily to concentrated use of the anti-allergy, or antihistamine drugs. Many people forget that these drugs cannot just be taken occasionally. For real effect there must be consistent use in order to build up a concentration of antihistamines in the body.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 12, the 233rd day of 1969. There are 132 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1949, Soviet occupation authorities in Berlin announced that the 328-day blockade of land routes to the isolated city had been lifted.

On this date: In 1797, Venice, which had been independent for 14 centuries, was captured by Napoleon.

In 1820, the English founder of modern nursing, Florence Nightingale, was born in Florence, Italy.

In 1932, the body of the kidnapped baby son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Linbergh was found in a wooded area in Hopewell, N.J.

In 1937, Britain's King George VI succeeded to the throne on the abdication of his brother Edward VIII.

In 1938, a Japanese fleet captured the Chinese island of Amoy. In 1943, the World War II battle of North Africa ended as the Germans surrendered at Cape Bon, Tunisia.

Ten years ago — The U.S. Secretary of State and the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the Soviet Union were meeting in Geneva to pave the way for a planned East-West summit meeting.

One year ago — U.S. fighter bombers pulverized half a square mile in Saigon's southern suburbs, but Viet Cong holed-up there still fought on.

Nixon Seeks Square Image

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Richard Nixon is setting himself up as the "square" President, and though it undoubtedly stems from complete conviction, it is probably his shrewdest political move to date. For there is always a cyclic rise and fall in a community's tolerance of moral looseness, and what is fashionably "hip" today in such things as drug taking and pornography may be well on the way out by 1972.

The "square" in the White House has just come out against smut mail, urging new obscenity laws to stop the "bombardment" of the American home by the "largest volume of sex-oriented mail in history." He has also given some evidence of his distaste for what has been happening at some of the Job Corps centers, where there have been gang rapes, narcotic use, and homosexuality. An admirer of Theodore Roosevelt, Nixon has caught on to the idea that the White House, in Teddy's language, can be made a "bully pulpit." Hence the vigorous Presidential backstopping of college administrators who propose to do something to end the violence on the campuses, and the promise of more speeches that will appeal to decent students as well as to the "over thirty" group that is against campus turbulence anyway.

The White House emphasis on "square power" may seem to run counter to all the observable trends. We are a youth-oriented society, and many of the young have declared war on what they regard as the "hypocrisy" of the middle class. But hypocrisy, as Oscar Wilde was probably not the first to observe, is the respect that vice plays to virtue, and the bourgeois values that are sometimes obscured by hypocrisy have a way of persisting. What is not clearly grasped at the moment is after the big advance of the Forties and Fifties, has started to fall again.

The pressure on the big "multiversities" and the newer community colleges to accommodate students for whom no good teaching can be immediately provided is bound to relax some time in the Seventies. The proportion of groupings, with family and career interests, will rise in relation to the number of dissenting adolescents; and the middle class, far from being a pushover for a rampaging Students for a Democratic Society, will become stronger than ever.

The "squares" dominated the last election, with fifty-seven per cent of the vote going to the two Presidential candidates who were denounced by the Left. And the squares are having their way in California, where the two most popular politicians happen to be Governor Ronald Reagan and Acting President Hayakawa of San Francisco State College, both of whom have cracked down on campus appeals to violence and the wave of obscenity that began with the Berkeley "filthy speech" movement. What is happening in California today will be happening in Boston tomorrow, for the "silent majority" knows no geographical limitation.

The Students for a Democratic Society, knowing that the seizure of college buildings is a "one-shot" thing, have been frantically trying to get a power base in industry. Hence their plans for summer infiltration of the factories. But if the SDS really knew anything about the history of Marxism, it would have encountered the "revisionist" critique of the poor, under capitalism, are bound to increase.

Long ago, Eduard Bernstein, a German Social Democratic revisionist, assembled an impressive amount of evidence to prove that the idea of the growing "misery" of the masses was pure speculative moonshine. The fact is that workers all over the West, becoming "middle class," are the big bulwarks of capitalist society. This is what Herbert Marcuse, the SDS philosopher, has complained of when he says that the students being "outside society" must be the carriers of revolution. But a student, two or three years out of college, is no longer "outside society." He is on his way to becoming a "square," just like President Richard Nixon.

Hope Taking It Easy

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "From now on call me 'Cool Eye Luke,'" Bob Hope said cheerfully. "I'm having it monogrammed on all my towels."

America's favorite quipster sounded chipper over the telephone from his Palm Springs home. He was having a few days of enforced rest after his second treatment for an eye ailment this year.

Last week he was released from New York's Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, where he underwent "exonon-arch photocoagulation" to cauterize tiny blood vessels that had burst in his left eye.

"They zapped it with that beam," said Hope. "Man, I can't live without that fix."

Beneath the quips there seemed to be an undercurrent of concern, plus impatience with anything that slows down the furious Hope pace. He was relieved to learn that except for the eye he was in excellent health.

Before his release from the hospital, Hope was lectured by an internist — "he put me down like a little boy." The essence of the lecture: that Bob can't expect at age 65 to have rehearsal, golf game and show in the same day. "Okay, I'll cut out the show," Hope replied.

He received more instructions from his wife Dolores on the plane trip to California. Finally he said, "Don't bug me; I've already had it from the doctor. These lectures are worse than the operation."

He and Dolores went immediately to his Palm Springs hideaway, which is the only place he can escape from the multifarious Hope enterprises. He admitted that he has done some serious thinking on the desert.

"My only problem is to keep away from hypertension," he remarked. "I don't have high blood pressure, but when I get in a condition of fatigue, those vessels in my eye can pop. Looking back on it now, I can see how it happened each time."

One of the busiest performers in show business, Bob has long been noted for remaining calm in any situation. But twice this year he blew his cool, and the eye hemorrhage followed.

Within a day or so after both incidents, Hope saw "a network like a spider's web" cover his eye. The last time it happened was while he gave the commencement address at Miami University in Ohio.

To prevent a recurrence, Hope vows to be Cool Eye Luke. Or so he claimed as he prepared to depart for a benefit in Omaha.

It is known by other names such as Mucoviscidosis and is considered to be an inherited disease with some genetic background, especially if both parents have the trait. Neither need have the disease.

Cystic fibrosis was almost a calamitous condition because of the marked malnutrition, lung infections, and susceptibility to heat prostration. Many children tragically succumbed, especially before the antibiotics were discovered and were used to treat the lung complication.

Your personal despair is understandable. Let me assure you that vast research projects continue all over the world in the hope that eventually this condition may be prevented. At the present time such research is being subsidized by governmental and public funds, and already is yielding knowledge that makes it possible to control this condition and offer better chances for the survival of children stricken with this heart-breaking birth abnormality. We all are encouraged by every additional contribution to the strange jigsaw puzzle of cystic fibrosis.

We hear about allergy to everything. Is it possible to have an allergy to cold weather? Every time my teenage daughter goes out in weather below freezing, she develops hives.

Mrs. W. G., Illinois. Dear Mrs. B.: The term "allergy" is not being used by physicians as an excuse for conditions that baffle them. Rather it is accepted that allergy plays a most important role in many of the diseases now brought to the attention of a physician.

It is not uncommon for people to develop giant itchy hives when exposed to extremes of heat or cold. Some believe that it is the change from one temperature to another that may be responsible. These hives have responded rather readily to concentrated use of the anti-allergy, or antihistamine drugs. Many people forget that these drugs cannot just be taken occasionally. For real effect there must be consistent use in order to build up a concentration of antihistamines in the body.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Monday, May 12, the 233rd day of 1969. There are 132 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1949, Soviet occupation authorities in Berlin announced that the 328-day blockade of land routes to the isolated city had been lifted.

On this date: In 1797, Venice, which had been independent for 14 centuries, was captured by Napoleon. In 1820, the English founder of modern nursing, Florence Nightingale, was born in Florence, Italy.

In 1932, the body of the kidnapped baby son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Linbergh was found in a wooded area in Hopewell, N.J.

In 1937, Britain's King George VI succeeded to the throne on the abdication of his brother Edward VIII.

In 1938, a Japanese fleet captured the Chinese island of Amoy. In 1943, the World War II battle of North Africa ended as the Germans surrendered at Cape Bon, Tunisia.

Ten years ago — The U.S. Secretary of State and the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the Soviet Union were meeting in Geneva to pave the way for a planned East-West summit meeting.

One year ago — U.S. fighter bombers pulverized half a square mile in Saigon's southern suburbs, but Viet Cong holed-up there still fought on.

Nixon Seeks Square Image

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN Richard Nixon is setting himself up as the "square" President, and, though it undoubtedly stems from complete conviction, it is probably his shrewdest political move to date. For there is always a cyclic rise and fall in a community's tolerance of moral looseness, and what is fashionably "hip" today in such things as drug taking and pornography may be well on the way out by 1972.

The "square" in the White House has just come out against smut mail, urging new obscenity laws to stop the "bombardment" of the American home by the "largest volume of sex-oriented mail in history." He has also given some evidence of his distaste for what has been happening at some of the Job Corps centers, where there have been gang rapes, narcotic use, and homosexuality. An admirer of Theodore Roosevelt, Nixon has caught on to the idea that the White House, in Teddy's language, can be made a "bully pulpit." Hence the vigorous Presidential backstopping of college administrators who propose to do something to end the violence on the campuses, and the promise of more speeches that will appeal to decent students as well as to the "over thirty" group that is against campus turbulence anyway.

The White House emphasis on "square power" may seem to run counter to all the observable trends. We are a youth-oriented society, and many of the young have declared war on what they regard as the "hypocrisy" of the middle class. But hypocrisy, as Oscar Wilde was probably not the first to observe, is the respect that vice plays to virtue, and the bourgeois values that are sometimes obscured by hypocrisy have a way of persisting. What is not clearly grasped at the moment is that our birth rate, after the big advance of the Forties and Fifties, has started to fall again.

The pressure on the big "multiversities" and the newer community colleges to accommodate students for whom no good teaching can be immediately provided is bound to relax some time in the Seventies. The proportion of grownups, with family and career interests, will rise in relation to the number of dissenting adolescents; and the middle class, far from being a pushover for a rampaging Students for a Democratic Society, will become stronger than ever.

The "squares" dominated the last election, with fifty-seven per cent of the vote going to the two Presidential candidates who were denounced by the Left. And the squares are having their way in California, where the two most popular politicians happen to be Governor Ronald Reagan and Acting President Hayakawa of San Francisco State College, both of whom have cracked down on campus appeals to the violence and the wave of obscenity that began with the Berkeley "filthy speech" movement. What is happening in California today will be happening in Boston tomorrow, for the "silent majority" knows no geographical limitation.

The Students for a Democratic Society, knowing that the seizure of college buildings is a "one-shot" thing, have been frantically trying to get a power base in industry. Hence their plans for summer infiltration of the factories. But if the SDS really knew anything about the history of Marxism, it would have encountered the "revisionist" critique of the crude Marxist theory that the poor, under capitalism, are bound to increase.

Long ago, Eduard Bernstein, a German Social Democratic revisionist, assembled an impressive amount of evidence to prove that the idea of the masses was pure speculative moonshine. The fact is that becoming "middle class," are the big bulwarks of capitalist society. This is what Herbert Marcuse, the SDS philosopher, has complained of when he says that the students being "outside society" must be the carriers of revolution. But a student, two or three years out of college, is no longer "outside society." He is on his way to becoming a "square," just like President Richard Nixon.

Hope Taking It Easy

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "From now on call me 'Cool Eye Luke,'" Bob Hope said cheerfully. "I'm having it monogrammed on all my towels."

America's favorite quipster sounded chipper over the telephone from his Palm Springs hideaway. He was having a few days of enforced rest after his second treatment for an eye ailment this year.

Last week he was released from New York's Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, where he underwent "exonarch photocoagulation" to cauterize tiny blood vessels that had burst in his left eye.

"They zapped it with that beam," said Hope. "Man, I can't live without that fix."

Beneath the quips there seemed to be an undercurrent of concern, plus impatience with anything that slows down the furious Hope pace. He was relieved to learn that except for the eye he was in excellent health.

Before his release from the hospital, Hope was lectured by an internist — "he put me down like a little boy." The essence of the lecture: That Bob can't expect at age 65 to have rehearsal, golf game and show in the same day. "Okay, I'll cut out the show," Hope replied.

He received more instructions from his wife Dolores on the plane trip to California. Finally he said, "Don't bug me; I've already had it from the doctor. These lectures are worse than the operation."

He and Dolores went immediately to his Palm Springs hideaway, which is the only place he can escape from the multifarious Hope enterprises. He admitted that he has done some serious thinking on the desert.

"My only problem is to keep away from hypertension," he remarked. "I don't have high blood pressure, but when I get in a condition of fatigue, those vessels in my eye can pop. Looking back on it now, I can see how it happened each time."

One of the busiest performers in show business, Bob has long been noted for remaining calm in any situation. But twice this year he blew his cool, and the eye hemorrhage followed.

Within a day or so after both incidents, Hope saw "a network like a spider's web" cover his eye. The last time it happened was while he gave the commencement address at Miami University in Ohio.

To prevent a recurrence, Hope vows to be Cool Eye Luke. Or so he claimed as he prepared to depart for a benefit in Omaha.

Professor Says Militants Have Badly Hurt Education

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Columbia University professor has said American universities will not recover for decades from the damage they have suffered as teaching institutions at the hands of student militants.

Jacques Barzun, a noted scholar and author of a book on the American university, said the colleges will have to take "strong means" to overthrow what he called student despotism if they are to recover at all. In testimony before a House education subcommittee, Barzun said student demands for a greater voice in choosing courses and faculty members are wildly impractical. "If a student is, in fact, capable of framing curricula, he should be given a diploma, not a voice because he will know everything necessary for earning that diploma," he said.

Barzun said other demands such as doing away with grades and required courses amount to "educational escapism. They are trying to relax standards to make college easier," he said. Barzun called "equally unreal" student demands for changing the world through the university. The only power the university has, he said, is to develop trained minds that can deal with the world's problems—a slow task that can only be performed in peace and quiet "not with guerrilla warfare outside the world."

Where the students have a valid complaint, said the professor, is in the decline of teaching at the universities in favor of research.

But the rewards of research are so great financially and in prestige both to the teachers and the university, he said, it has become almost impossible to get able young teachers for the general liberal arts courses in the first two years of college.

Another professor, Seymour Martin Lipset of Harvard University, told the subcommittee the trouble on the campus today was basically a political phenomenon, not an educational one.

It is part of a worldwide "crisis of authority," he said, brought on by increasing awareness of the social conditions existing in the world, the breakdown of monolithic Communism and the rise of liberal opposition tendencies in various countries.

South Bloomfield Village Council OKs New Marshall

The appointment of Paul Conn by South Bloomfield Mayor Lester George as full time marshal of the village was approved by the village council last week.

The council also granted South Central Power Co. the right to use streets, alleys, lands, sidewalks and other public ways and places within the village for construction, maintenance and operation of an electrical lighting and power distributing system.

The council voted to purchase a new safe and set up a checking account for the village marshal's use.

New mower cutters were purchased and a motion was passed to repaint cross walks on Route 23 and side streets near Route 23. The Buckeye Traffic Regulating Corporation will paint the crosswalks.

A total of $5,000 was transferred from the general fund to the street repair and maintenance fund.

Mayor George informed council of the Public Utilities Commission hearing 10 a.m. May 22 at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds to discuss the proposed extended area service between Ashville and Circleville of the General Telephone Co.

The street committee reported three additional street lights had been installed along with one in front of the municipal building.

The clerk reported that the Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc. was decreasing its gas rate .06 of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet, effective June 1 through May 31, 1970.

Mayor George reported that he has received requests for 4-way stops in the Crites-Cook Subdivision at the intersection of Cook and Crites, Lee and Crites, Nelson and Crites. The request was turned over to the street committee for study.

Councilman Russell Toole suggested that traffic lights be turned to yellow when traffic was heavy on Sunday night. No action was taken on the suggestion.

A discussion was held concerning the repair and remodeling of the council room or another room in the council house. Bids will be taken for the repair of the north room in the building.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. LaDonna Haslep, Fred Will, Sheldon Root, Russell Toole, Kenneth McDaniel and Dale Pettibone and Mayor George.

Wittenberg Youth's Slaying By Guard Still Being Probed

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Clark County Coroner George P. Anderson Sunday ruled homicide in the death of a Wittenberg University senior shot by a campus security guard outside a girls' dormitory.

But whether charges will be filed against the guard will not be known until police file an official report, expected sometime today.

The youth, John C. Lobach,

21, of Bethlehem, Pa., was shot early Saturday by Chester Phillips, 48, who had been on the university's security force about two years.

Phillips was suspended pending outcome of the police investigation.

Lobach and fraternity brother Ted J. Winsler Jr. of Napoleon and Allen Mitchell of Worthington had spent Saturday evening together. Mitchell had planned to call a girl friend at a dormitory, but instead the three went to North Hall Girls' Dormitory.

Lobach climbed to a second floor ledge in an apparent attempt to contact the girl. A coed saw his shadow and screamed and the house mother, Werna Benson, called the security officer.

Mitchell and Winsler left the scene as the security officers, Phillips and George Lytle, arrived.

Lobach was seen on the ledge and ordered to come down. He complied.

Then, because Wittenberg has a rule that no arrest can be made on university grounds unless the chief of security or the school's business manager is notified, Lytle entered the dorm to make the calls.

Lobach, who had been seated in the officers' car, took off. Phillips said he called four times for Lobach to halt and then fired a warning shot in the air. The next time he fired, the bullet hit Lobach in the back.

The youth was dead when city police arrived on the scene.

Wittenberg Youth's Slaying By Guard Still Being Probed

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Clark County Coroner George P. Anderson Sunday ruled homicide in the death of a Wittenberg University senior shot by a campus security guard outside a girls' dormitory.

But whether charges will be filed against the guard will not be known until police file an official report, expected sometime today.

The youth, John C. Lobach,

21, of Bethlehem, Pa., was shot early Saturday by Chester Phillips, 48, who had been on the university's security force about two years.

Phillips was suspended pending outcome of the police investigation.

Lobach and fraternity brother Ted J. Winsler Jr. of Napoleon and Allen Mitchell of Worthington had spent Saturday evening together. Mitchell had planned to call a girl friend at a dormitory, but instead the three went to North Hall Girls' Dormitory.

Lobach climbed to a second floor ledge in an apparent attempt to contact the girl. A coed saw his shadow and screamed and the house mother, Werna Benson, called the security officer.

Mitchell and Winsler left the scene as the security officers, Phillips and George Lytle, arrived.

Lobach was seen on the ledge and ordered to come down. He complied.

Then, because Wittenberg has a rule that no arrest can be made on university grounds unless the chief of security or the school's business manager is notified, Lytle entered the dorm to make the calls.

Lobach, who had been seated in the officers' car, took off. Phillips said he called four times for Lobach to halt and then fired a warning shot in the air. The next time he fired, the bullet hit Lobach in the back.

The youth was dead when city police arrived on the scene.

Chill Air Hangs On

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chilling air swept eastward out of the midcontinent today, driving down temperatures and scattering pockets of frost as far south as the southern Appalachians.

The unseasonable frosts and freezes were the result of a swirling current in the upper atmosphere that kept propelling fresh supplies of air from the Arctic into the northern United States.

By contrast, a spring heat wave that has sent the mercury soaring in the Southwest continued unabated, with temperatures expected to top the 100 degree mark again today.

An arc of showers extended from New England across the nation to the Rockies and the Pacific Coast was socked in by fog in several places.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 28 in International Falls, Minn., to 84 in Blythe, Calif.

Police Chaplain Hard Worker

Editor's note: By day, the Rev. Robert Asmuth is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Myers, Fla. By night, he is a police chaplain who takes the word of God to the night people. An AP writer accompanied the Rev. Mr. Asmuth on one of his weekly tours in a squad car.

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) —

Many married men have their weekly night out and the Rev. Robert Asmuth is no exception. He spends every Friday night in a police squad car, taking the word of God to the street corners and ministering to the spiritual needs of his police pals.

To these pals, Asmuth is simply "The Rev."
Chaplain to the Fort Myers police force the past five years, Asmuth has become familiar with violence, screams in the night and flashing police lights. Last week was no exception. The squad car radio alerted Asmuth to the trouble. Moments later the preacher, billy club in hand, scrambled out of the car. Seconds later he was comforting a man who wept over the body of his slain brother.

"The Rev. joined us originally because policemen can't always attend church on Sunday morning, because we need help with potential suicides and wayward juveniles and because the image of the policeman was steadily declining," said Police Chief Burl Underhill.

"Now, we wouldn't want to be without him. We sometimes tend to lose sight of the fact that we can't leave God out of our plans."

Although he could spend his hours in the First Presbyterian Church where he is pastor, the 39-year-old Asmuth says he prefers to spend every Friday night and many weekday hours riding the city in squad cars, helping policemen with their personal problems and professional duties.

"Policemen work long hours, don't get paid much and often have problems they don't want to talk over with their superiors," the minister said. "So, a lot of times an officer will ask me to ride with him in the squad car for a while to talk. He gets it off his chest, and I'll help with any advice I can give."

He has taken guns out of the hands of cornered suspects and talked potential suicides out of pulling the trigger.

unusual after-hours activities, even though she sometimes feared it could leave three children fatherless.

For the Rev. police work is a way to repay the regular force he considers "underpaid, overworked and unappreciated."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren He Loved! Told! Now What's Left?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 49-year-old divorcee who had a three-year affair with a married man when he visited my city (twice a month) on business.

Well, all of a sudden his conscience started to bother him so this dirty rat told his wife everything—in detail. He even turned over to his wife all the letters I had written to him, and she sent them to MY mother along with a complete list of hotels and dates I met him in his room.

He tells me that this is the only way he knows to relieve his wife of all the anguish she has suffered because of me, and now he wants to make it up to her and start over again with a clean slate.

What about me? I bought him an expensive watch, which his wife soaked in salt water and returned to me — ruined!

Is there any way I can get back at him legally? I have letters from HIM, too.

BITTER
DEAR BITTER: If I were you, I'd quit losers.

DEAR ABBY: My son got a girl in trouble and they got married, and now they have a wonderful baby boy they both love. They love each other, too, and are very happy together.

The problem is my husband. He refused to go to the wedding when these kids got married, and he wouldn't go to see the baby when it was born. In fact, the baby is nearly a year old, and he still hasn't seen it. He says, "Those kids will pay for their shame. I want nothing to do with them!" If he sees them on the street he won't even speak to them.

Abby, I know my son did wrong, but I am willing to forgive and forget. My son doesn't know this, but his father hasn't led such a clean life that he can cast stones at anyone.

This is breaking my heart. What can I do?

HEARTSICK
DEAR HEARTSICK: Don't nag your husband about it. If you haven't been able to make him see how wrong he is for "playing God" and sitting in judgment, ask someone whom he believes in to help him. A grudge-bearer invariably punishes himself far more than those he hopes to punish.

DEAR ABBY: I know you can't publish every letter you receive, but even tho this is a very delicate subject, I hope you will print it, as it contains a very important message for many wives. Perhaps I should be completely honest and confess that it is meant for my own wife whom I cannot bring myself to tell.

Wives write to you by the dozens, complaining that they do not get the physical love they need. Have they ever considered that perhaps there is a reason? I know of no better way to say this than, "feminine hygiene."

Nothing turns a man on quicker than a freshly bathed, sweet-smelling woman. And nothing turns him off quicker than one who is not.

I love my wife. She keeps a spotless house, and man couldn't want a better mother for his children. But she is careless about her person. I realize she is tired, but if she would add 10 minutes to her day by taking a bath, dabbing on a little body powder, and a dash of cologne, she could add years to her lovely life. Believe me, I know.

Trial Starts In Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—The trial of Curtis Davis, 22, Bainbridge, charged with first-degree murder and shooting with intent to wound, opens today in Ross County Common Pleas Court.

Davis is charged in the slaying of his wife, Ann, 22, and an uncle, Arthur Henderson, 57, Ft. Thomas, Ky., on Oct. 25, 1968. The shooting involves the wounding of a friend, Robert Kinnamon, at the same time.

The shooting took place in the Davis home and has been reported as stemming from domestic trouble. Davis and his wife had argued, authorities said.

Kinnamon was in a hospital for several weeks recovering from a bullet wound.

Davis pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. He was sent to the Lima State Hospital for observation last Jan. 24, but returned here after physicians found him sane.

Start Apollo 10 Countdown With Launch Set Sunday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 10 countdown starts at midnight tonight. If all goes well, three astronauts will be launched on a trail-blazing moon orbit next Sunday.

The mission is to take man within 50,000 feet of the moon. That will pave the way for the Apollo 11 team to attempt a lunar landing in July.

Flying Apollo 10 will be an all-veteran crew: Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan. Stafford and Young have made two space trips each and Cernan one.

The countdown will take 93 hours, but it will be spread out over 5½ days. The additional time will be used up in several planned holds to give the crew rest and time to correct any problems which may arise.

There are only five days this month when the moon is in a favorable position to receive visitors from earth.

If Apollo 10 cannot get off the ground during this period, the launch will have to be postponed until the next opportune interval in mid-June. That could delay the planned July 16 liftoff of Apollo 11 until August.

Stafford, who will command Apollo 10, says the flight "is designed to tie together all the knots, to try to sort out all the unknowns and pave the way for a lunar landing mission—do everything exactly as on the landing mission except the final descent to the lunar surface."

"When the Apollo 11 astronauts hear our description and study our photographs we want them to feel as if they had been there themselves," he said.

After streaking for three days into space, the astronauts are to fire themselves into orbit 69 miles above the moon, following almost the same path as the Apollo 8 pilots did on their moon orbit journey in December.

Halfway through their 2½-day stay in orbit, Stafford and Cernan will transfer through a connecting tunnel into a lunar module, or LEM, the bug-like vehicle designed to land men on the moon.

They will detach it from the command ship and jockey into an orbit that twice will take them less than 10 miles above the intended Apollo 11 landing site. They will take pictures and radar readings as they pass over the target area near the crater Moltke in the Sea of Tranquility.

They will fly a tricky rendezvous to rejoin Young in the command ship, making the same moves Apollo 11 must exercise to leave the moon after its landing.

Once Stafford and Cernan have returned to the command vehicle, they will kick the LEM free in space and spend another day in orbit, photographing potential landing areas and learning how to navigate around the moon.

Then all three will start the 54-hour return trip to a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean.

The flight is to last eight days, five minutes.

21 Win Prizes In Great Atlantic Air Race

By ANDREW TORCHIA
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The British navy won in record time, a prince tore his pants and an American entrant in the great transatlantic air race reached London in a Gay Nineties swim suit and skis.

The week-long rush between the top of the General Post Office Tower in London and the top of the Empire State Building in New York ended Sunday. There was $144,000 in prizes for winners in 21 categories and a rich harvest of tall tales and publicity for the not-so-fast.

With several prizes not yet announced, four Americans were among the winners in the competition sponsored by the London Daily Mail. The race marked the 50th anniversary of the first transatlantic flight by Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Brown.

The Royal Navy waited until the last day for its best of three record-breaking efforts—5 hours, 11 minutes, 22 seconds by Lt. Cmdr. Peter Goddard, 37. The 4 hours, 45 minutes and 52 seconds his Phantom supersonic jet was in the air was a record for the New York to London crossing, an average of 723.8 miles per hour. Strong tail winds helped, and Goddard refueled six times on the way from Royal Air Force flying tankers.

Goddard took a helicopter from the airport to a construction site near the post office tower. He claimed $14,400 in prizes.

RAF Squadron Leader Tom Lecky-Thompson also won $14,400 for the fastest London-New York flight—6 hours, 11 minutes and 57 seconds in Harrier jump jet.

Among the nearly 400 competitors, American prizewinners were R. W. Selph, Sandy Hook, Conn., fastest subsonic aircraft London-New York, 7 hours, 6 minutes, 24 seconds, $9,600; Miss S. M. Scribner, Garden City, N.Y., New York-London unsponsored personal attempt, 6 hours, 55 minutes, 48 seconds, $6,000; Mrs. Nancy Kelly, Pennsylvania, woman light aircraft New York-London, 22 hours, 32 minutes, 57 seconds, $2,400; Stephen Wilkinson, Florida, man light aircraft London-New York, 20 hours, 23 minutes, 32 seconds, $2,400.

A group of bowler-hatted British businessmen who flew to New York May 4 rushed back home with a prize and said they also negotiated millions of dollars of export orders with the Americans.

The prize in the chartered business jet group went to Tony Drewery, 23, who clocked in at 7 hours, 3 minutes and 5 seconds—13 minutes faster than former auto racer Stirling Moss.

Among the losers was Prince Michael of Kent, a 26-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, who was competing on a scheduled airliner. The plane had to wait more than an hour to take off from Kennedy Airport in New York, and the prince tore the seat of his white flannels on the door of the helicopter in which he completed his trip. Ben Garcia, 32, an East Brunswick, N.J., trucking contractor who switched to airliners after his light plane crashed early in the race, arrived Sunday on his sixth unsuccessful try for a prize.

Garcia, in a turn-of-the-century pink and orange swim costume with skis screwed onto roller skates on his feet, said his wife could not bear the thought of another air race.

2 Local Teens Injured In 1-Car Mishap

Two local teenagers were injured in a one car accident early Sunday morning when the driver lost control of his vehicle.

Taken to Berger Hospital for emergency treatment of minor injuries were the driver of the car, Thomas Parmer, 18, of 654 E. Mount St.; and passenger Phyllis Binkley, 18, Route 1, Laurelville.

The car was westbound at a high rate of speed on Pontious Road near the intersection of Route 188 about 3:45 a.m. when it went out of control, according to the report filed by State Highway Patrolman E. G. Moore.

The Parmer car went off the left side of the road, traveled 104 feet, struck a fence and a large tree stump.

No citations were issued by the patrol.

"When the Apollo 11 astronauts hear our description and study our photographs we want them to feel as if they had been there themselves," he said.

After streaking for three days into space, the astronauts are to fire themselves into orbit 69 miles above the moon, following almost the same path as the Apollo 8 pilots did on their moon orbit journey in December.

Halfway through their 2½-day stay in orbit, Stafford and Cernan will transfer through a connecting tunnel into a lunar module, or LEM, the bug-like vehicle designed to land men on the moon.

They will detach it from the command ship and jockey into an orbit that twice will take them less than 10 miles above the intended Apollo 11 landing site. They will take pictures and radar readings as they pass over the target area near the crater Molke in the Sea of Tranquility.

They will fly a tricky rendezvous to rejoin Young in the command ship, making the same moves Apollo 11 must exercise to leave the moon after its landing.

Once Stafford and Cernan have returned to the command vehicle, they will kick the LEM free in space and spend another day in orbit, photographing potential landing areas and learning how to navigate around the moon.

Then all three will start the 54-hour return trip to a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean.

The flight is to last eight days, five minutes.

21 Win Prizes In Great Atlantic Air Race

By ANDREW TORCHIA
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The British navy won in record time, a prince tore his pants and an American entrant in the great transatlantic air race reached London in a Gay Nineties swim suit and skis.

The week-long rush between the top of the General Post Office Tower in London and the top of the Empire State Building in New York ended Sunday. There was $144,000 in prizes for winners in 21 categories and a rich harvest of tall tales and publicity for the not-so-fast.

With several prizes not yet announced, four Americans were among the winners in the competition sponsored by the London Daily Mail. The race marked the 50th anniversary of the first transatlantic flight by Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Brown.

The Royal Navy waited until the last day for its best of three record-breaking efforts—5 hours, 11 minutes, 22 seconds by Lt. Cmdr. Peter Goddard, 32. The 4 hours, 48 minutes and 57 seconds his Phantom supersonic jet was in the air was a record for the New York to London crossing, an average of 723.8 miles per hour. Strong tail winds helped, and Goddard refueled six times on the way from Royal Air Force flying tankers.

Goddard took a helicopter from the airport to a construction site near the post office tower. He claimed $14,400 in prizes.

RAF Squadron Leader Tom Lecky-Thompson also won $14,400 for the fastest London-New York flight—6 hours, 11 minutes and 57 seconds in Harrier jump jet.

Among the nearly 400 competitors, American prizewinners were R. W. Selph, Sandy Hook, Conn., fastest subsonic aircraft London-New York, 7 hours, 6 minutes, 24 seconds, $9,600; Miss S. M. Scribner, Garden City, N.Y., New York-London unsponsored personal attempt, 6 hours, 55 minutes, 48 seconds, $6,000; Mrs. Nancy Kelly, Pennsylvania, woman light aircraft New York-London, 22 hours, 32 minutes, 57 seconds, $2,400; Stephen Wilkinson, Florida, man light aircraft London-New York, 20 hours, 23 minutes, 32 seconds, $2,400.

A group of bowler-hatted British businessmen who flew to New York May 4 rushed back home with a prize and said they also negotiated millions of dollars of export orders with the Americans.

The prize in the chartered business jet group went to Tony Drewery, 23, who clocked in at 7 hours, 3 minutes and 5 seconds—13 minutes faster than former auto racer Stirling Moss.

Among the losers was Prince Michael of Kent, a 26-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, who was competing on a scheduled airliner. The plane had to wait more than an hour to take off from Kennedy Airport in New York, and the prince tore the seat of his white flannels on the door of the helicopter in which he completed his trip. Ben Garcia, 32, an East Brunswick, N.J., trucking contractor who switched to airliners after his light plane crashed early in the race, arrived Sunday on his sixth unsuccessful try for a prize.

Garcia, in a turn-of-the-century pink and orange swim costume with skis screwed onto roller skates on his feet, said his wife could not bear the thought of another air race.

2 Local Teens Injured In 1-Car Mishap

Two local teenagers were injured in a one car accident early Sunday morning when the driver lost control of his vehicle.

Taken to Berger Hospital for emergency treatment of minor injuries were the driver of the car, Thomas Parmer, 18, of 654 E. Mount St.; and passenger Phyllis Binkley, 18, Route 1, Laurelville.

The car was westbound at a high rate of speed on Pontious Road near the intersection of Route 188 about 3:45 a.m. when it went out of control, according to the report filed by State Highway Patrolman E. G. Moore.

The Parmer car went off the left side of the road, traveled 104 feet, struck a fence and a large tree stump.

No citations were issued by the patrol.

Celebrities Have Costly 'Soul Food'

NEW YORK (AP) — "Soul" reigned supreme at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Sunday night as 1,000 persons—including scores of celebrities—gathered for a unique, $100-a-plate dinner that featured fried chicken, collard greens and rice with black-eyed peas.

Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Rosalind Russell and Harry Belafonte were among those who sat at long, narrow tables covered with red and white checked cloths and passed around huge platters of food and pitchers of beer, cheerfully helping themselves to food.

The "Soul Food Dinner" was a benefit for the Free Southern Theater, a group that travels through the South, bringing theater to people in poor, Negro communities.

The evening's program was informal. The only speech was a brief welcome given by Brock Peters, board chairman of the theater.

The guests—clad in a variety of costumes ranging from African gowns to velvet evening suits—sipped cocktails and nibbled "nonsoul" hors d'oeuvres before moving into the hotel's grand ballroom for dinner, dancing and entertainment. One young woman was clad in a fairly traditional gown, but had shaved almost her entire head except for an Indian-style topknot.

The food was prepared in the hotel's kitchen by the regular Waldorf staff—a group more used to turning out roast beef and mashed potatoes.

Chlorine Deaths Orphan Children

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Three young children were orphans today following the deaths of their parents, who were among residents of an East Side area exposed to chlorine gas that leaked from the city's Baldwin Filtration Plant last Thursday.

The couple's children were reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital. They are Tracy, 3, Suzanne, 18 months, and Christopher, 6 months.

Cleveland, Baltimore, Pittsburgh Join AF League

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The best kept secret in pro football history is out, and Baltimore, Cleveland and Pittsburgh are in the American Football League. The switch of the three National League teams were made Saturday night, solving pro football's realignment problem for 1970 by creating two 13-team conferences.

Actually, agreement on the moving trio was reached at about midnight Friday, and the AFL realigned itself into three divisions within 45 minutes. The decisions, however, were kept secret for 21 hours, until 10 o'clock Saturday night when Commissioner Pete Rozelle disclosed them to the world. "All day I was scared that it would leak out," Rozelle said. "I didn't have much confidence that we could keep it secret." Why did he keep it a secret instead of announcing it immediately? "We wanted to do it in a package," the commissioner said. "We wanted so desperately to make it a package. We just wanted to wrap the whole bit up."

ball—the Browns average about 80,000 a game; the No. 1 attraction, the powerful Colts with Unitas, John Mackey, etc., and a new stadium, Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium, with a 53,000 capacity. In return, each of the three teams will get somewhere from $2 million to $3 million as in demerity for moving to be subsidized by the remaining NFL clubs; owner Carroll Rosenbloom gets a permanent crack at the Jets, and the Steelers get a chance for a fresh start after 36 nonchampionship years in the NFL.

Atlanta Braves Defeat Phils, 4-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Faced with a moment of truth for the second time in 24 hours, Bob Skinner did some quick figuring and decided to take the Baby Bull by the horns again. When the dust settled, there was blood on the sand—and the scoreboard read: Bull 2, Skinner 0.

Skinner, Philadelphia's percentage-player manager, ordered hot-hitting Hank Aaron walked intentionally with one out and a runner on second base in the ninth inning of Sunday's game against Atlanta. The gambit backfired, just as it had the previous night, when Orlando Cepeda smacked a run-scoring single that gave the Braves a 4-3 victory and extended the Phillies' losing string to four games.

Larry Pusey Wins Mile At District

Larry Pusey, Logan Elm's outstanding miler, won the event at the district in 4:39.5 Saturday, a new school record. Pusey finished ahead of Bob Oesterle of Westfall who was second. Both boys will compete in the regional track meet at Worthington Saturday.

Beman Winner In Playoff At Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Dean Beman, his first professional victory in the bag is a happy—but far from satisfied—young man. "No day of rest for me," Beman said after beating veteran Jack McGowan in a sudden death playoff for the $20,000 first prize Sunday on the first extra hole. "It's back to the practice tee, back to the drawing boards."

Winning is something very special, and, of course, I'm very happy," the 31-year-old former U.S. and British Amateur champion said. "But I won it with my chipping and my putter. I've tried to play so that when I finally did win a tournament, I'd win it with all my clubs. But I guess when it comes time to win, you're going to win."

Pigeon Club Holds Races

The Circleville Pigeon Club held its first 100 mile old bird race from Maysville, Ky., May 4 with 11 lofts and 186 birds competing in the race. Stan Crosby took first place with a speed of 1324.7757 yards per minute. Birds from his loft also placed second and third with speeds of 1322.4794 and 1319.7758 yards per minute.

Bye Bye Sam Wins Stakes At Roosevelt

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Bye Bye Sam astounded the harness racing world by winning Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway last Saturday night. Was it just racing luck or is the son of the famed pacer of a decade ago, Bye Bye Bird, destined to win racing's triple crown this season with Stanley Dancer in the sulky? The Messenger, the first leg in the triple crown, seemed to be at the mercy of Laverne Hanover, the Billy Haughton-driven colt, who had won 24 of 25 career starts. He was such a stickout that he was barred from the betting.

Ted Kluszewski Joins Reds Immortals

CINCINNATI (AP) — The first baseman for the "Greatest Reds Ever" team is Ted Kluszewski, who hit 251 home runs for Cincinnati in 10 seasons including 49 in 1954. Kluszewski edged Frank McCormick in final balloting for the "Greatest Reds Ever" who will be honored during ceremonies at Crosley Field May 18. Previous selections for the team were lefthanded pitcher Eppa Rixey, catcher Ernie Lombardi, third baseman Heinie Groh, outfielder Frank Robinson and shortstop Roy McMillan.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Luis Tiant says his arm is "feeling better all the time," but the man who won 21 games for the Cleveland Indians in 1968 has yet to post his first 1969 victory.

Parnelli Jones Is Winner Of Wolverine In Recheck

CAMBRIDGE JUNCTION, Mich. (AP) — Parnelli Jones, a 15-year veteran of the track wars, won what he termed the toughest auto race of his career Sunday in an event that started with tragedy and ended in controversy. Jones, 35, of Torrance, Calif., was declared the winner of the four hour, Wolverine Trans American Sedan Race four hours after Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., had been ushered to victory lane and given the plaudits of a crowd of 21,648 at Michigan International Speedway.

After the finish, Homer Perry, a Ford Motor Co. official and manager of the Mustang team, asked Sports Car Club of America officials for a recheck of the timing charts. Perry said his own charts showed Jones the winner. It was learned that at least two other private charts had the Mustang out front. After four hours of poring over the charts, lap by lap, SCCA officials determined that Parnelli had not been credited with at least three circuits of the 3.31-mile course. The oversight apparently occurred at about the three-hour mark. During the early stages of the race, which got under way after a rain, hail and snow storm, one of the powerful small sedans spun off the course and crashed into a group of spectators gathered near the 11th turn. A Lansing, Mich., man, Durward Fletcher, 43, was killed and 12 persons were injured, including Fletcher's wife, Lorna, 48. Jones was paid $5,000 for his victory. Donohue, 31, who won 10 of the 13 Trans-Am races last season, received $3,500. Jones' average speed was 85.49 miles per hour. Third was Jerry Titus of Encino, Calif., in a Pontiac Firebird. Bob Tallius of Falls Church, Va., in a Javelin, and Dick Lang of Xenia, Ohio, in a Camaro, rounded out the top five.

King Of The Castle Wins Illinois Derby; Baeza Rider

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Braulio Baeza knows what the winner's circle at many tracks looks like. Now he's familiar with the one at Sportsman's Park. The veteran Panamanian jockey waited until last Saturday, closing day of the meeting, to make his first appearance at the Chicago track and he did it in style—winning the $79,480 Illinois Derby aboard Ogden Phipps' King of the Castle. It was also the initial appearance for Phipps' colors at Sportsman's Park.

Ack Ack, $3, earned $37,767. The field of eight carried scale weight of 126 pounds. Ack Ack, Tyrant, Rooney's Shield and Blade are possibilities for next Saturday's Pre-Kness Stakes, the second leg of the Triple Crown.

Griffith, Hayward To Fight Tonight
Emile Griffith, the former welter-weight and middleweight champion, and Stanley "Kitten" Hayward of Philadelphia clash Monday night in a 12-rounder that could earn the winner a title fight with middleweight king Nino Benvenuti of Italy. The bout at New York's Madison Square Garden will be telecast to some parts of the country. Starting time is 10 p.m., EDT.

What we could keep it secret." Why did he keep it a secret instead of announcing it immediately? "We wanted to do it in a package," the commissioner said. "We wanted so desperately to make it a package. We just wanted to wrap the whole bit up."

What Rozelle meant was he was waiting for the NFL to realign itself from four divisions of four teams each into two groups of four and one to five. But while the remaining 13 club owners tried unsuccessfully to do that, the AFL owners continued meeting under voluntary house arrest at the plush pro football offices on Park Avenue while two blocks away, at the St. Regis Hotel, disheveled newsmen waited like expectant fathers all night and all day.

When the announcement finally came, most people were surprised. And, as could have been expected, fans in the three cities were not wildly enthusiastic about the developments.

The surprise came because the AFL got the NFL's defending champion, Baltimore, and its defending Eastern Conference titlist, Cleveland. Baltimore had been consid-

Larry Pusey, Logan Elm's outstanding miler, won the event at the district in 4:39.5 Saturday, a new school record. Pusey finished ahead of Bob Oesterle of Westfall who was second. Both boys will compete in the regional track meet at Worthington Saturday.

Logan Elm scored a total of seven points in the district meet and Westfall scored six.

Danny Cooper threw the discus 124 feet to place fifth in that event. Jim Lett of Westfall was fourth in the 2 mile.

BYRON Sykes of Logan Elm won his heat of the 2-mile but was in the slow heat at the district competition.

Circleville's Bill McGowan set a new school record in the mile in the Class AA district, but finished seventh in the race. McGowan ran the mile in 4:42.

Mel Smith of Circleville won his heat of the 2-mile by a good 40 yards, but was in the slow heat. There were five Smiths in the event, and Mel was mistakenly placed in the slow heat. His time of 10:30 was not fast enough to place in the race.

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Bye Bye Sam astounded the harness racing world by winning Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway last Saturday night.

Was it just racing luck or is the son of the famed pacer of a decade ago, Bye Bye Bird, destined to win paces? The triple crown this season with Stanley Dancer in the sulky?

The Messenger, the first leg in the triple crown, seemed to be at the mercy of Laverne Hanover, the Billy Haughton-driven colt, who had won 24 of 25 career starts. He was such a stickout that he was barred from the betting.

Coming into the stretch, Laverne was leading by 1 1/2 lengths and appeared a certain winner. Bye Bye Sam and Dancer were four lengths back in the sixth place.

natural rivalry, a good intrastate rivalry that will endure for years after we're gone." Johnny Unitas of Baltimore and Leroy Kelly of Cleveland also will be gone after some years, but for the immediate future, 1970, they are two of the NFL's superstars who will be playing in the AFL, or American Conference, as it probably will be called.

Besides getting these glamor guys, the AFL gets the best home drawing team in pro football—the Browns average about 80,000 a game; the No. 1 attraction, the powerful Colts with Unitas, John Mackey, etc., and a new stadium. Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium, with a 53,000 capacity.

In return, each of the three teams will get somewhere from $2 million to $3 million as in demerity for moving to be subsidized by the remaining NFL clubs; owner Carroll Rosenbloom gets a permanent crack at the Jets, and the Steelers get a chance for a fresh start after 36 nonchampionship years in the NFL.

Beman Winner In Playoff At Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Dean Beman, his first professional victory in the bag is a happy—but far from satisfied—young man.

"No day of rest for me," Beman said after beating veteran Jack McGowan in a sudden death playoff for the $20,000 first prize Sunday on the first extra hole. "It's back to the practice tee, back to the drawing boards."

"Winning is something very special, and, of course, I'm very happy," the 31-year-old former U.S. and British Amateur champion said.

"But I won it with my chipping and my putter. I've tried to play so that when I finally did win a tournament, I'd win it with all my clubs. But I guess when it comes time to win, you're going to win."

He won it with rounds of 70 and a course-record-matching 65 on the 7,138 yard, par 71 Pecan Valley Country Club course, then rammed in a 20-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole for his first professional victory.

"That putt was just like the one against (Arnold) Palmer," Beman, 31, said. A pro only since 1967, he lost a playoff to Palmer in the Bob Hope Classic that year.

"I told myself, 'Well, you missed it once, now you've got a second chance at it.'"

He made it, but he got the second chance only because of a heartbreaking lapse by the weather-beaten, dour little McGowan, a pro for 18 years whose only victory was in the 1964 Mountain View Open.

McGowan, four strokes ahead at the turn, watched that dwindle to a single stroke going to the last hole. Beman was in the clubhouse. He needed an 18-inch putt to nail down his biggest payday ever. And, incredibly, he missed it.

Parnelli Jones Is Winner Of Wolverine In Recheck

CAMBRIDGE JUNCTION, Mich. (AP) — Parnelli Jones, a 15-year veteran of the track wars, won what he termed the toughest auto race of his career Sunday in an event that started with tragedy and ended in controversy.

Jones, 35, of Torrance, Calif., was declared the winner of the four hour, Wolverine Trans American Sedan Race four hours after Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., had been ushered to victory lane and given the plaudits of a crowd of 21,648 at Michigan International Speedway.

Jones was driving a team Mustang, one of a pair prepared for racing by famed stock car builder Bud Moore of Spartansburg, S.C.

After the finish, Homer Perry, a Ford Motor Co. official and manager of the Mustang team, asked Sports Car Club of America officials for a recheck of the timing charts.

Perry said his own charts showed Jones the winner. It was learned that at least two other private charts had the Mustang out front.

After four hours of poring over the charts, lap by lap, SCCA officials determined that Parnelli had not been credited with at least three circuits of the 3.31-mile course.

The oversight apparently occurred at about the three-hour mark.

During the early stages of the race, which got under way after a rain, hail and snow storm, one of the powerful small sedans spun off the course and crashed into a group of spectators gathered near the 11th turn.

A Lansing, Mich., man, Durward Fletcher, 43, was killed and 12 persons were injured, including Fletcher's wife, Lorna, 48.

Jones was paid $5,000 for his victory. Donohue, 31, who won 10 of the 13 Trans-Am races last season, received $3,500.

Jones' average speed was 85.49 miles per hour.

Third was Jerry Titus of Encino, Calif., in a Pontiac Firebird. Bob Tallius of Falls Church, Va., in a Javelin, and Dick Lang of Xenia, Ohio, in a Camaro, rounded out the top five.

King Of The Castle Wins Illinois Derby; Baeza Rider

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Braulio Baeza knows what the winner's circle at many tracks looks like. Now he's familiar with the one at Sportsman's Park.

The veteran Panamanian jockey waited until last Saturday, closing day of the meeting, to make his first appearance at the Chicago track and he did it in style—winning the $79,480 Illinois Derby aboard Ogden Phipps' King of the Castle.

It was also the initial appearance for Phipps' colors at Sportsman's Park.

King of the Castle, winner of the Louisiana Derby, covered the 1 1/4 miles over a sloppy track in 1:51.2-5 for a 1 1/2-length victory over Marion H. Van Berg's Rush Date.

The winner, who was co-high-weighted at 126 pounds with Trusty Pro, earned $43,697 and paid a winning mutual of $4.40.

Three-year-olds also were featured at Aqueduct in the $58,100 withers and Cain Hoy Stable's Ack Ack got the win after Neil Hellman's Gleaming Light, an 18-1 shot, was disqualified for interference in the stretch.

Gleaming Light finished the mile in 1:34.4-5, three-quarters of a length in front of Ack Ack, with Locust Hill Farm's Tyrant a head back and a neck in front of Osmer S. Deming's Rooney's Shield.

However, the stewards placed Gleaming Light fifth behind Claiborne Farm's Blade after ruling that jockey Larry Adams and Gleaming Light interfered with Rooney's Shield and Blade in the stretch.

Red Sox Top California Angels, 7-3

By ED SCHUYLER JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Some people drive cars for Sunday relaxation. Rico Petrocelli drives baseballs for game-winning, two-run homers.

The Boston shortstop drove a ball over the left field wall with a man on in the fourth inning and then connected again with a mate aboard in the sixth Sunday in leading the Red Sox to a 7-3 victory over the California Angels.

It was the third Sunday out of five this season Petrocelli has won games with two-run homers.

He hit one April 13 to wipe a 1-0 Cleveland lead in a 3-1 Boston victory and another in the 11th inning May 4 for a 4-2 victory over Detroit.

In other American League action Sunday, Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-0, Oakland downed the New York Yankees 2-0, Detroit nipped Minnesota 3-2, Seattle edged Washington 6-5, and the Chicago White Sox topped Cleveland 7-5.

Petrocelli's two homers, his ninth and 10th of the season, just two less than he hit all last year, powered the Red Sox to their eighth straight victory and kept them a game behind first-place Baltimore in the American League's East Division.

The 25-year-old veteran, who hit .234 and drove in 46 runs in 1968, now has the second-best average of .360 in the American League and 16 RBI. He also has fielded flawlessly in all 29 games and has an errorless streak of 33, 20 less than the American League record set by Chico Carrasquel with the White Sox. Baltimore's Jim Palmer, a shutout victim twice in a row after winning his first three decisions, did the blanking this time, stopping Kansas City on three hits. Frank Robinson hit a two-run homer for the Orioles, his 11th of the season and first since April 30. Oakland's sixth straight victory moved the Athletics to within 12 percentage points of first-place Minnesota in the West Division.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter yielded just three hits in sending New York to its fourth consecutive loss and 11th in the last 12 games. Bert Campaneris and Hunter drove in the Oakland runs.

Denny McLain, 5-3, drove in the deciding run for Detroit against Minnesota. McLain, who got relief held from Pat Dobson, gave Detroit a 3-0 lead with an RBI single in the sixth. Jim Price and Al Kaline homered for Detroit and Tony Oliva connected for Minnesota.

Frank Howard blasted his 12th and 13th homers, the second coming with a man in the seventh to give Washington a 5-5 tie, but Seattle won the game when Don Mincher homered in the ninth. Howard also singled in a run for the Senators, who have lost five straight.

Chicago sent Cleveland reeling to its 21st loss in the 25 games when Sandy Alomar broke a 4-4 tie with a three-run double in the eighth. Ken Berry then protected the margin by making a great catch of a long drive by Cleveland's Rich Scheinblum with a man on in the ninth.

Ohio Weekend Highway Toll 20

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Ohio's weekend traffic toll got off to a tragic start with 15 deaths occurring Saturday.

But the accidents tapered off Sunday, and the 54-hour period ended with 20 deaths, about average for a nonholiday weekend in Ohio.

The toll included only one multiple-fatality accident, but that crash Saturday in Fairfield County took the lives of four young people.

The Fairfield County crash and several other fatal accidents were blamed partially on adverse driving conditions created by heavy rains during much of the weekend.

The dead:

FRIDAY NIGHT
CINCINNATI — Daniel Newman, 38, of suburban Harrison, when his car went out of control near his home.

ZANESVILLE — Robert Ankrum Jr., 14, Zanesville, when his motorbike was struck by a car on a county road in Muskingum County.

SATURDAY
NEWARK — Connie Lou York, 20, Pataskala; Brenda Kay Hosler, 19, of Kirkersville, and Robert W. Baumhoyer, 18, and James A. Moro, 18, both of Baltimore, Fairfield County, when their auto skidded out of control on rain-slick Ohio 37 and crashed into a tree near Baltimore in Fairfield County.

CINCINNATI — Larry Andrews, 26, of Milford, when his car crashed and flipped over in the Cincinnati suburb of Indian Hills.

Court Refuses 9,000 Pennies In Fine Money

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — William Hiestor, 20, was jailed Friday when a court clerk refused to accept his 9,000 pennies for a traffic fine.

Hiestor, a soldier, brought the coins in a bowling bag to pay five tickets ranging from reckless driving to display his registration ahead of time. He claimed he was being harassed by a policeman who issued all five tickets.

Traffic Court Judge Salvatore De Meo found him guilty on one charge of reckless driving.

Hiestor, stationed at Frankford Arsenal, was held by court officials for arrival of military police.

Man Ordered Out Of Town

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — A man accused of taking part in a riot says he'd rather switch towns than serve 1½ to 23 months in jail.

The option was given to Benny Walls, 27, after he pleaded guilty to assault and battery and pointing a deadly weapon during a riot two summers ago. Judge Lindley McClelland, who sentenced Wall, told him he could get out of jail in a week if he agreed to leave the city in 24 hours and never return.

Wall indicated he would leave and head for Detroit, Mich. He was accused of assaulting two television newsmen during a riot on the city's East Side in 1967. The judge dismissed charges of rioting and obstructing a policeman against Wall.

NEW YORK (AP) — Highlights, sidelights, facts, figures, sights and sounds—all were packed like sardines into Sunday night's NBC special, "Mirror of America."

The hour program was a skillful mixture of armchair tourism and capsule history of Washington, D.C. It skipped from century to century, event to event, and used all sorts of visual devices. There were the archive pictures, of course. They used drawings to show the burning of Washington by the British; old and very interesting photographs for events of the Civil War period; plus newsreels and television films and tapes. It was all bound together artfully and coherently.

The program's thesis was that the city is every American's second city—his first being his birthplace and that it reflects like no other place, the mood and temper of the nation.

"It's major industry is politics," said narrator Burgess Meredith, "it's principal product, history."

And its second biggest business is tourists—16 million a year. It showed an assortment of them as well as the places they visit—the memorial building to past presidents, the White House and the Capitol.

Occasionally the producers indulged in some interesting film editing to make a point. They showed, for instance, the continuity of government by rerunning film showing presidents from Roosevelt to Nixon, a few seconds of each, taking the oath of office, so that the oath from beginning to end came in an assortment of voices.

America's involvement in war was shown by victory marches in the city from the end of the Civil War to the end of World War II. There were also scenes of Coxie's army, the bonus marchers and the 1963 March on Washington.

It was a well-conceived, professionally executed program. One may logically wonder why NBC in this season of reruns, could not have found an early evening hour for the broadcast. It was the sort of thing that should have had a big audience of teens and preteens.

Rod McKuen's casual and beguiling performing style was on view in a half-hour NBC special, "The Loner," Saturday night. It was an intimate solo performance of his own work by the husky-voiced poet, and since poetry readings are about as rare as bull fights on television, it had a charm of its own.

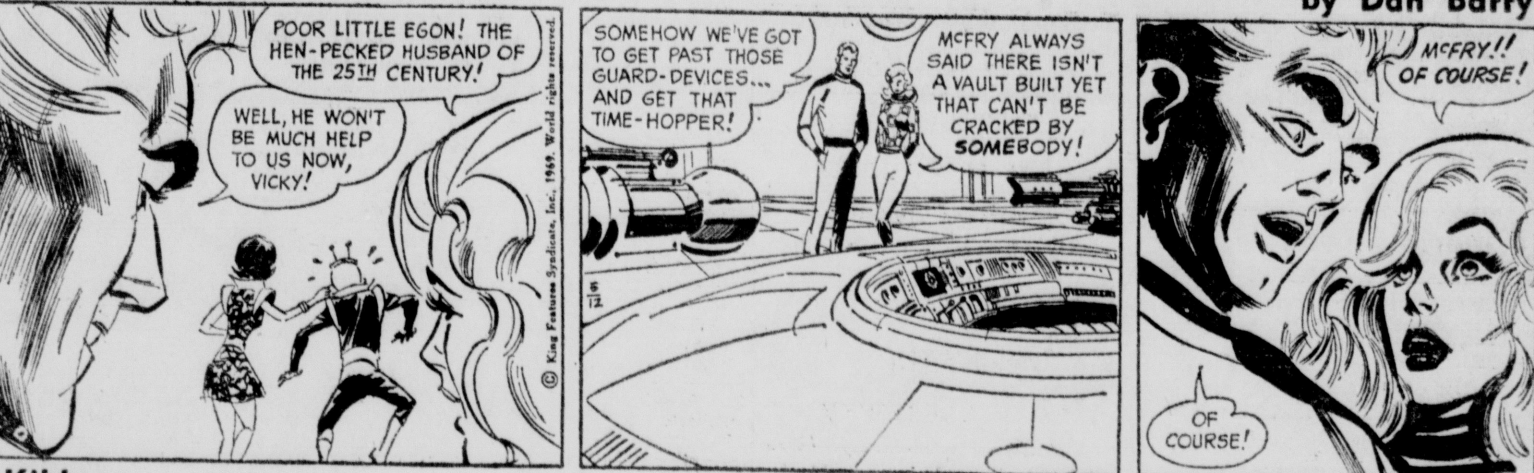

"Hidden Faces," an NBC soap opera that started earlier this season, will be dropped—poor ratings—at the end of June. It will be replaced by "You're Putting Me On," another of those game shows using celebrities and studio contestants.

Recommended tonight: "Anderson Company," NBC 8-8:30 EDT, pilot film for a period comedy series with Fred ("The Munsters") Gwynne and Abby Dalton playing the parents of eight at the turn of the century.

Townpeople Of Zap Learn Lesson Cheaply, They Claim

ZAP, N.D. (AP) — "We learned our lesson and learned it cheap," says village grocer David Schaper after the big "zap-in."

"Too much publicity and not enough police in town," he added Sunday. "We thought at first, the less law the better."

The western North Dakota prairie community of Zap was placed under martial law Saturday morning when about 500 National Guardsmen moved in to evict more than 2,000 college-age young people, some from as far away as Toronto, Canada, and Florida.

The "Zap-in," started as a light-hearted lark, but turned into a destructive spree. The original tongue-in-cheek suggestion came from the North Dakota State University student newspaper.

"Most of them were good kids," sighed Zap Mayor Norman Fuchs. He said only about 100 or 150 youngsters were responsible for the damage, but "you couldn't really tell who started it or what started it."

The mayor said he figured on a few broken windows "but nothing like this."

The trouble apparently began with the breaking of windows in the town's two taverns and only cafe.

Furnishings in the cafe and Lucky's Tavern were destroyed and some merchandise was taken. Two doors were ripped from the village auditorium and the door of a soft drink machine inside was ripped off. Surveying his student-dubbed "Fort Lauderdale of the North," Fuchs said the damage would probably run from $5,000 to $10,000.

"The places were kind of run down anyway," Fuchs said with a smile.

Pickaway County Garden Club Show Aptly Named, 'Time To Remember'

By RUTH E. MONTELIUS
GARDEN EDITOR

The title "A Time To Remember" of this year's Pickaway County Garden Club's annual spring flower show is surely true for those top winners.

Mrs. Emmett Barnhart, 200 Northridge Road, walked off with the top honors in the Artistic Arrangement Division. She won the Best Creative Arrangement and the Gwendolyn Crites Award with her entry in the "Mod Styles in Dress" class.

To be eligible for this creativity arrangement personal expression must be a quality. The material may be the designer's choice but some fresh plant material must be included.

The Gwendolyn Crites Award is a silver award with a pink and white rosette and is given to the best artistic arrangement in the Tri-Color, Creativity and Distinction Classes exhibited by a member of Pickaway County Garden Club. This is a Rotating Award.

MRS. Dean Sells, Laurelville, won the Tri-Color Award in the Artistic Arrangement section. This must contain all freshly cut plant material only with no figurines or accessories. She also won the Meinhardt Crites Award which is a silver rotating award with a purple and white rosette which was selected from the best horticultural entry exhibited by a member of the Pickaway County Garden Club.

Also winning other top awards were Mrs. Bernard Savy, 930 Circle Drive and Mrs. Kenneth Hannan 547 N. Pickaway St. Mrs. Savy won an Award of Merit in the Specimen class with her entry of a pink Tree Peony.

Mrs. Hannan won the Award of Distinction in the Artistic Division. The Award of Distinction is given to an all dried, treated tinted material arrangement with no figurines or accessories.

The judges were Mrs. John Butler of Gahanna and Mrs. Robert Zollinger and Mrs. William H. Thumm of Columbus. They were most enthusiastic about the caliber of this year's show.

There was also an educational display. Part of this was a display of berries, cones, and pods. Another part was of old photos of Circleville. Many books on landscaping and gardening were also for viewing. Mrs. Ned Harden and Handy Hatfield were responsible for this.

There was a special invitational class included this year. It was called May Fantasy. Mrs. Howard Junk, Mrs. Reginald Blue, and Mrs. Oscar Root graciously contributed to this.

MRS. GEORGE Swebston was the chairman for the tea. She and her committee of Mrs. Dean Sells, Mrs. Ed Fetheroff, Mrs. Goldie Byers, Mrs. Wilson Ross, Mrs. H. T. Edwards, Mrs. Eugene Crawford provided punch and cookies with a lovely center piece of tulips, black haw, and daisies.

Mrs. Bernard Savy had placed a lovely dried mass arrangement on the mantel to provide atmosphere in this lovely old home, the Clarke-May Museum.
